

Merry Death Revealed

Lyrics by "Captain Mission" the deep fix

she just flew in from Paris
Slightly worse for wear
I don't know how but she, crash landed
Into my affairs

They say she is devastating
Her eyes are like stars
They sparkle and a flame
With her, fierce intelligence

My mind was fixed and focused
Heart was made of stone
I'd been around the block three times
And I wasn't going back home
We're looking for the meaning
Seeking higher love
When I see her smiling
I just can't get enough

A girl like her is precious
Yeah a girl like her is rare
She disarmed me in an instant
And I was made aware

We all know our desires
And our fates are sealed
But I was taken by surprise
When I saw Meredith revealed

And I want to taste her lips
I know her kiss is sweet
And if it means a little death
I won't accept defeat
It takes time and love
And a little pain is healed
When you get to witness
Meredith revealed

I never met a woman
I just want to keep
And if it means a merry death
Well I hope she welcomes me
